From The President

Something Old, Something New...

After having attended our Asilomar Conference for many years and having heard Ranger Roxann present her Julia Morgan architectural tour numerous times, who would ever expect that it would once again be thoroughly entertaining and full of new information? For example, did you know that one of the historic buildings at Asilomar was the result of peanut butter cookie sales? Even Gordon Repp, the only member who has participated in the walk with Ranger Roxann more times than I, learned new information. But that walk was only one of the many highlights of the conference, run flawlessly by Cal Wood and his wife Dixie.

As always at Asilomar, it was a pleasure to renew friendships with so many people who come year after year. And it was especially gratifying to welcome more new attendees this year than I can ever remember from the past. Our Association continually works to attract more “younger” folks (“younger” defined as anyone under 65!) to this conference, as well as other events, since our “regulars” are aging rapidly. So if you’ve been thinking about attending, please mark your calendars now for Feb. 18-21, 2011. (To find out more about this year’s memorable conference, please read Cal’s article on page 4.)

Embracing available technology and the skills of Ray Hendess, we are excited to announce that this is the first newsletter to be received “green” by some members who have opted for an email notification containing a link to the newsletter online. If you choose this option, not only will you receive the newsletter about two weeks earlier than by snail mail, you will also save the Association money. Try it; it’s quick and easy, even for those of us who are “technologically challenged.” Just go to www.pbknca.org/1010

This is the last President’s Letter that I will be writing for the newsletter, as Janiece will assume the office in July. She will be leaving her post as chapter liaison. Two other Board members are also leaving: our recording secretary, Mary Granger, who has served us admirably for a number of years, and Joanne Williams, who has been our capable corresponding secretary this past year. I will miss them, and I will also miss working with the other Board members who are staying on. I have truly enjoyed my years on the Board, first as corresponding secretary, then as Asilomar chair, and finally as president. My job in the latter category has been made infinitely easier by our wonderful Board. All unpaid volunteers, they have done their work cheerfully and efficiently. I cannot thank them enough for making my job a pleasure and for serving you, the members, so well.

Asilomar February 12-15, 2010 Report

If you pre-registered for Asilomar while at the conference, please note that the date at the top of the pre-registration sheet was incorrect. The correct dates for the 2011 Phi Beta Kappa Conference at Asilomar are February 18-21, 2011. Please make any necessary changes to your calendar.

What a wonderful weekend! The weather was fantastic, with immense, booming waves crashing ashore on Saturday and lovely sunshine the whole time. It seemed almost sacrilegious to spend any time indoors, but those of us who did were richly rewarded.

Our opening speaker on Friday night, Dr. Jay Davis, Scientist and Past Founding Director of the Defense Threat Reduction Agency (DoD), was masterful at making very complex issues understandable, explaining both the technical and the political problems that face us in working to reduce the number of nuclear weapons in the world's arsenals. He also shared with us a realistic timetable for accomplishing various levels in the future. A truly meaningful reduction in numbers will require decades to achieve, and must ultimately include all nations that now have such weapons.

Saturday morning, Father Leo Arrowsmith, American Orthodox priest and artist, completed a rough draft of the painting of an icon, all the while entertaining us with his gentle spirit and sound insight, as well as astounding us with his artistic ability. The icon was auctioned for the scholarship fund (the winning bid was $200, but several folks came forward afterward to contribute to the scholarship fund, so the total is now up to $450). Fr. Leo will finish detailing the icon, which we have decided to donate to his Church when it is finished since none of us has the wall space to hang a 3x4 foot painting at home. I think we can get a fine reproduction of the icon made (say, 5x7 inches, on a mounting board), that we can make available to the membership at a nominal price, which can also contribute to our scholarship fund. That would make a great memory of the weekend for us. If there is enough interest, I will pursue the matter. Please let me know by sending an email to calandix@comcast.net.

Saturday afternoon we had an interesting travelogue of the Chilean Fjords and Antarctica (penguins, orcas and all), by Cal Wood.

Saturday evening Special Agent Ron Umbel, of the FBI's Infragard Program explained how ordinary people and businesses can help us remain alert to terrorist threats.

Sunday morning Mr. John Seager, President of Population Connection, gave an excellent summary of Jeffrey Sach's Common Wealth: Economics for a Crowded Planet, and led us in discussing the book. In the afternoon, Mr. Seager, overcoming the lack of a microphone, gave us a most enlightening talk that updated us on what countries can do, and what some have already done, to address the very real problems created by a growing world population faced with limited resources. His insights into this pressing matter proved to be encouraging for those who are taking things seriously and working to solve the problems, as well as a bit frightening in light of those who are not yet “on board” for long term solutions.

Sunday evening our own Marci Coglianese, former mayor of Rio Vista and member of several boards and commissions for Delta Water problems, shared with us her considerable expertise about many of the political difficulties and technological problems that face anyone trying to find equitable, common ground for water use in California. (More references at www.pbknca.org/)

Monday morning we found ourselves again in the company of our dear friend, Ranger Roxann, who has such enthusiasm coupled with extensive knowledge of Asilomar and Julia Morgan, its architect. She gave us a guided tour that left us all feeling satisfied and filled to the brim with the ‘Asilomar Experience.’ She has promised to return next year. Yippee! See you all there.

Cal Wood
Asilomar Conference Chair

Upcoming Events

Here is a reminder about our enrollment, refund and cancellation policies. Most events can accommodate you and any friends or family you'd like to bring along. Occasionally an event will have a limited enrollment, in which case we may not be able to accommodate more than one member and one guest per enrollment. As for refunds, if you call in advance they may be available unless ΦBKNCA will lose scholarship money — that is, unless we are financially committed, based on your enrollment, to an organization at which the event will be held. If we can find someone to fill your space, we may be able to refund your payment but that is not always possible. Members who do not come to an event they've signed up for will not receive a refund. The ΦBKNCA Board is most grateful to those who prefer to donate the program fee to the scholarship program in lieu of a refund.

Enjoy Brunch and Theater with Mark Twain!
Is He Dead? by Mark Twain, adapted by David Ives. Sunday, April 11, 2010

After his obituary was mistakenly published in the American press, Mark Twain sent a cable from London stating "The reports of my death are greatly exaggerated." Unlike what appeared in the newspapers, rumors of this play were not exaggerated - it received its world premiere on Broadway in 2006 - and it's a live one! Jean-François Millet, a brilliant but unrecognized painter, can't sell a landscape to save his life (literally). His wacky bohemian friends convince him that faking his death is just the ticket for raising his stock. So Jean-François disappears from life and re-emerges as his imaginary twin sister, a widow both mad and madcap. Here's gold dust in your eyes, as extended horseplay involving the stench of Limburger cheese and the deconstruction of a woman of “artificial parts” will make you howl for more.

Dear Friends of UC Berkeley,

For the past two years, ΦBKNCA UC Berkeley grads have contributed money for a reception for the Berkeley ΦBK initiates. Because the Berkeley chapter is changing its procedures this year and using a venue that does not allow food, we'll be unable to host a reception. So we'll not be soliciting contributions, and we plan to fold what's left from last year's contributions into the scholarship fund. If you have any questions please contact me at joannes@berkeley.edu.
